

2000s

After a spell as a military hospital, Dalzell House has been developed into private apartments. A restoration programme brings many benefits to the grounds, but the Covenanter's Oak is damaged by severe weather. Baron's Haugh has effective management of water levels for wildlife, and North Lanarkshire Council and RSPB Scotland manage the whole area for people and wildlife alike.